

Friday, June 26 — Mürren (full free day)

Big picture: your first full Alpine day. The signature outing is Schilthorn / Piz Gloria; the gentle alternative is Allmendhubel. Weather picks the day.

Option A — Schilthorn / Piz Gloria (do this on the clearest day)

1. From the village, board the cable car at Mürren heading up. The route is Mürren → Birg → Schilthorn (2,970 m) on the new (2026) cableway — fast, modern, all seated.
2. At the summit: the 360° revolving Piz Gloria restaurant (one full turn every ~45 min), the Bond World / Spy World interactive exhibit (featured in On Her Majesty's Secret Service), and the Skyline View Platform with 200+ peaks named on a clear day — Eiger, Mönch, Jungfrau front and center.
3. On the way down, stop at Birg for the Skyline Walk and the Thrill Walk (a glass-and-grate walkway along the cliff face). Skip the edge features if heights aren't your thing — the views are just as good from inside.
4. Back in Mürren by late afternoon. Budget ~3–4 hrs. The Piz Gloria burger or the buffet brunch up top is the classic lunch.

Option B — Allmendhubel (the gentle day)

A 4-minute funicular from the village up to Allmendhubel (1,907 m): panorama loungers, the Alpine Flower Park (a flat 20-min loop), and a mountain restaurant with a terrace facing the Eiger–Mönch–Jungfrau. No hiking required — just sit, eat, and take it in. A perfect low-effort day.

HEADS UP · Check the webcam before you ride up

Schilthorn is all about the view. Check the summit webcam in the morning — if the top is in cloud, save Schilthorn for tomorrow and do Allmendhubel or a valley day instead. Bring a warm layer regardless: it's ~2,970 m at the top and cold even in June.

Evening in a car-free village

Mürren is tiny and traffic-free, made for a slow stroll. There's a small Coop grocery for snacks, and note there's no ATM in the village — bring the cash you'll want before you come up. A pre-dinner drink on the hotel balcony watching the alpenglow is the whole point of being here.
